

RULES

The game is a simplified version of billiards with air hockey elements, where players control their colored balls (blue and red) and aim to pocket white balls using a targeting and shooting mechanic: press and hold to aim, then release to shoot; points are awarded for pocketed white balls, and the player with the highest score wins.